

Supplemental Figure S7: Functional distribution of CDS according to COG between strains isolated from animal and humans. The charts represent mean number assigned to each categories. The right strip indicates the different categories assigned with COG.