

Supplemental Figure S9: Functional distribution of CDS according to COG between strains isolated from human carriage or during infection . The charts represent mean number assigned to each categories. The right strip indicates the different categories assigned with COG.